Councilmember Sherman Celebrates Completed Renovation of Six Community Parks in District 7

$50,000 Navajo Park Renovation Plan Upgraded Six Parks to Improve Recreation and Safety for Residents

SAN DIEGO – Councilmember Sherman hailed the completion of the Navajo Parks Renovation Plan (NPRP), a $50,000 plan that renovated six popular parks in the District 7 community. The six parks include the Allied Gardens Community Park, Lake Murray Community Park, Princess Del Cerro Neighborhood Park, Lower Lewis Joint Field Use, San Carlos Join Use Field, and Skunk Hollow.

Councilmember Sherman became concerned after hearing from residents about increased injuries and deteriorating conditions of parks. “Residents rely on our parks and open space for recreation activities with their families. After years of neglect, it was important to act immediately.”

Sherman praised city workers and community leaders for making the completion possible.

“I deeply appreciate the hardwork of city staff and community leaders for helping to push this important project through to the finish line,” said Councilmember Sherman. “This park improvement plan marks our continued efforts to reinvest money into our communities.”

Sherman also acknowledged Jay Wilson, President of the Del Cerro Action Council, and Terry Cords, President of the Allied Gardens Recreation Council, for their assistance in coordinating the renovation schedule with the sports leagues who utilize the fields.
